

SURPRISE FOR HALLOWEEN

BY JÚLIA B. & VALENTINA V.

2BAT B

THREE YEARS AGO, MELANIA WENT TO MEXICO ON HALLOWEEN TO VISIT HER FAMILY. WHEN SHE ARRIVED, SHE SAW ALL THE CITY DECORATED WITH MANY SKELETONS, PUMPKINS, SPIDERS...

HER FAMILY HAD THE TRADITION TO GIVE SOME OFFERINGS TO THEIR ANCESTORS.

THEY ALWAYS CREATED AN ALTAR ON "DIA DE MUERTOS", BUT THAT TIME THEY DECIDED TO ADD A HALLOWEEN TOUCH. NEXT TO THE PHOTOS OF THEIR LOVED ONES THEY PLACED SMALL PUMPKINS AND LANTERNS.

WHILE THEY WERE DOING TREAT OR TREAT, MELANIA FELT AS IF SOMEONE WAS FOLLOWING HER. SHE IGNORED THAT, BUT THEN THE FEELING WAS BIGGER AND SHE STARTED TO FEEL VERY NERVOUS. SUDDENLY, SOMEONE TOUCHED HER SHOULDER, BUT WHEN SHE TURNED AROUND, SHE DIDN'T SEE ANYONE. AT THAT MOMENT, SHE HEARD A FAMILIAR VOICE. IT WAS HER AUNT! MELANIA HAD A SPECIAL CONNECTION WITH HER AUNT, WHO HAD DIED A YEAR BEFORE. SHE FELT A RELIEF AND THEN A LOT OF PEACE.

IN SPITE OF BEING VERY SCARED, THAT DAY BECAME THE BEST OF HER LIFE BECAUSE SHE COULD TALK TO HER AUNT AGAIN.

THE SCARIEST NIGHT OF THE YEAR

It's widely understood that Halloween is the scariest night of the year, and after a traumatic experience, I can confirm that affirmation.

Three years ago, I was playing football with some friends. Suddenly, the ball was kicked so hard it got into a stranger's backyard. Obviously, we wanted to keep playing, so we jumped over the fence and got into the house. Upon entering, we felt that the house had a gloomy appearance, but we ignored it.

While looking for the ball, we heard a very disturbing moaning coming from the inside. We decided to investigate the house even though we were very scared. As we opened the main door, we thought the worst was yet to come, because the screams kept increasing. We crawled up the stairs only to find the most horrifying image. We saw a girl covered with her own blood being brutally stabbed.

We got out of there as fast as we could, jumping the fence and running away. Suddenly, the moaning stopped, and as we turned around to see what happened, we realized the house had just disappeared.

Ever since that day, no one goes near the football field, and I won't be the one to do it.

TRICK OR TREAT, CANDY OR EARS?

Ten years ago, in a small village called Sant Pere de Ribes, a 7 year-old boy was kidnapped on Halloween.

Blai was with his friends doing trick or treat around the neighborhood when he saw a house with a gigantic pumpkin and decided to go there. He knocked the door and a really weird guy dressing like a ghost told him to come inside to get some extra candy. When Blai tried to leave the house he realized the door was locked, so he started to shout asking for help.

Blai's friends, who were walking down the same street, heard someone screaming, so they decided to go there and see what was going on. As the weird guy opened the door, they saw blood on the floor. They run into the house and saw Blai without ears. Before they could call the police, the weird guy proposed them a deal. He would realise Blai if they gave him all the candy they had collected.

Finally, when they run away from the house with Blai, they went to the police station to report that guy, and the police said that he was one of the most wanted men in the country. That night he was arrested.

THE RIGHT ROOM

In the dark of the night, Miquel heard something tapping at his window, at first he ignored it but it kept getting louder.

He slowly approached the window, he looked out but saw nothing. By the time he turned around something grabbed his leg. His parents heard the screams and quickly went to his room, Miquel wasn't there.

His parents kept looking for him, but after some days of intense search, he didn't appear. A few days later, they got a phone call. A stranger told them that his son was in an abandoned house out in the forest.

When his parents got there, they got another phone call. The stranger told them that Miquel was only in one room and they had to look for the right one, but when they first opened the bathroom, they realized that all the rooms were the right one.

THE DREAM DEMON

There were once two boys who went camping for a few days with their class.

Since the day they got there, they had been having a strange feeling as if they were in danger. During the first two nights, they discovered that they were in danger because they were seeing the same figure in their dreams, which spooked them a lot.

After three days had passed since their arrival, they both started seeing that same creature, but while they were awake. They were scared to death, even though they had not been physically affected by whatever was hunting them.

Lastly, on the sixth night, they were very tired, but didn't want to fall asleep because of their fear. At one point in the night, one of them couldn't take it any longer and fell asleep. At that instant his friend, who was still awake, saw that he was starting to choke. Right after that, very long and deep cuts started appearing on his body, blood was now everywhere.

He was left there, standing, terrified and not knowing what to do, just staring, in the middle of the night, at his now dead friend.

THE MYSTERY BOX

Once upon a time, in a little town in the north of England, a family was preparing Halloween decorations. Some of them were cooking and baking in the kitchen and the other ones were carving pumpkins in the garden.

Suddenly a bat appeared at the porch with a letter, which had been written with blood. One of the kids found it and opened it. The letter said that they had to follow some rules to discover a surprise. The little boy was scared but he didn't say anything to anyone. Then, the older sister found another letter in her room, next to a bloody knife. She opened it and saw that there was a drawing of her house with some red points marked. She walked down the stairs and talked to her little brother who told her he had found another letter. They followed the rules and found a mystery box. There were bones inside with some candles. They were terrified! They talk to their parents, who didn't seem fascinated so the two kids started to think that it was all planned by their parents. The children continued with the game because they were threatened, but they were less scared.

Finally, they discovered that that wasn't planned by their parents because his father had disappeared. They were all scared and called the police but nobody has seen him again.

A BAD ENDING STORY

There was a time when the darkness ruled the world, a gate had been opened between two worlds: the death and mortal. This is the story of how it happened.

On Halloween of 1893, in Maryland, Neversland, three kids gathered together in an abandoned house and without knowing it they were starting a satanic ritual. On the place they were standing was an old satanic temple where the old wizards of the past tried to open a gate in order to connect both worlds.

When the ritual started, the kids were dragged into the death world and the door was left open leading to lots of tragic events in the surrounding areas. Since then, darkness started replacing the goodness and was the evil that possessed the whole world.

There was nothing to do, the fallen angel, Lucifer, finally ruled the world for the end of ages, bringing death, misery and sacrifice to the human race.

So now you know kids, don't do satanic rituals in abandoned houses. Maybe you could end up starting the end of the world.
